A likely case of thyrotoxic periodic paralysis

Patient presented with a few isolated episodes of muscle weakness. This progressed from 2 weeks before, during the index episode, to become so severe that he couldn’t walk.